serious consideration.

Meanwhile, we have Chapter activities with our Monthly meeting and election of officers for next year. I hope to see you all there.

Sincerely— Daniel M. Conway

In November, we celebrate Thanksgiving Day which gives us a chance to count our blessings whether good health, family, friends, or whatever else. It also gives us an opportunity to help others who are in the same situation that many of us were in at some time in the past.

We can be part of that service group for today's guard and Reserve families through participation in the ARNG Family Assistance Fund. The Arizona National Guard operates the fund with Guard personnel at no cost to the fund.

The opportunity is to contribute to the ARNG Family Assistance Program.

This is a program set up by the Arizona National Guard to provide emergency assistance to families left behind by those Guard and Reservists who have been called to active duty. They help the spouse with getting his/her car repaired, getting the water heater replaced, repairing storm damage, and all those type of things that the Guard or Reservists would have been able to handle if they had been home.

On a personal note, when hurricane Carol hit Boston in 1954, Joyce was abandoned by her Coast Guard husband with a 9 month old baby with no electricity for 8 days. Our friends in the Newton police and the milkman came to her rescue with milk being delivered every other day with ice. People were waiting in line for hours for ice. There was no gasoline because I urge that you consider a generous contribution to the fund. Just remember the benefits which those of who are retired and those who will someday be retired have recently been awarded in large part to the efforts of MOAA. TRICARE for LIFE results in a savings of over $150/ month/person. What a difference that amount could make to a Guard or Reserve family when problems develop.

The MOAA effort in soliciting funds in Arizona is being coordinated by the Superstition Mountain Chapter with credit given to each participant and to each Chapter. Please send your donations to: Carol Winkler, Treasurer, 425 Marigold Lane, Tempe, AZ 85281. Write out your check to "Superstition Mountain Chapter MOAA" and write on your check "ARNG Fund, AZ Chapter". You and the Chapter will get credit.

Please give this fund your Personal Affairs by Bernie Conway

When is the last time you reviewed your paperwork, such as wills, Living Wills, survivor checklist, and living trust? We had our living trust prepared in 1998. We were sure we were in good shape, but went to the free seminar on living trusts presented by one of the Sentinel advertisers, Morris, Hall, & Kinghorn. It seems that there were several legislative actions that took place in 2002 that makes an update required for our living will. I think this is part of the lawyers protective association. Lawyers sell the living trust, and other lawyers make changes, so the lawyers selling the trust can sell an update!

Putting my love of lawyers aside, I would suggest you sit through one of the free seminars presented by Morris, Hall & Kinghorn, or get in touch with your financial planner, etc. and see how your paperwork stands up. I am not selling any product for any company. I am trying to sell peace of mind to you, the few people that will take the time to read this article, and do something about it. I have

Legislative Update

[Source: MOAA Legislative Update]

by Gary Fredricks

Earlier this year it became apparent to the various veterans groups in Arizona that state level veteran's affairs were being treated haphazardly at best, particularly within the state legislature. At the urging of these groups, Governor Napolitano created an Arizona Veterans Task Force in June of this year.

The Task Force has 11 members and is chaired by the Director of Arizona Department of Veteran's Services. The Task Force is charged with analyzing and evaluating existing state services and benefits provided to Arizona veterans, identifying and comparing Arizona state services and benefits available to veterans who reside in other states and developing a plan to educate Arizona state and local leaders about issues of importance to Arizona veterans. Recommendations and a final report are due to the Governor, Senate President and Speaker of the House by the first week in January 2006.

Three open hearings have been held by the Task Force to date. Subjects reported at the last Unified Arizona Veteran's meeting to have been discussed

Fund Donations

One person's generous gift will help strengthen America's future through supporting the education of our youth. Since the last newsletter the members below have made generous donations to the:

General Fund:

Mike Gannon $2

50th Anniversary Fund:

Mike Gannon $202

Scholarship Fund:

Mike Gannon $2

by the Task Force include the need for more veterans benefit counselors, funding for a new state veteran's cemetery and the need for a veteran's home in Tucson.

Three more open hearings are scheduled. They are scheduled at 1300 hours on Nov 2, Nov 30 and Dec 15 in the Governor's Conference Room, Executive towers, 2nd floor, 1700 W. Washington. The MOAA Arizona Council of Chapters Vice President and I plan to attend remaining hearings, and I will attempt to keep you informed as issues develop. If you would also like to attend, please do so.

On the National level, a statement in the MOAA Legislative Update for Oct 21 very well sums up the situation. The statement is, "It was hard to tell what and who to believe this week as House and Senate leaders put out conflicting signals on how budget cuts may affect the defense budget and Medicare payments to doctors (which also affect patient access)."

Rather than trying to make sense in this short space out of what seems to be irrational behavior by some of our nation's legislative leadership on the Hill, let me simply advise you to go to MOAA's web site and:

Auxiliary Comments
by Jo Ann Thompson

By Guest Columnist Violet Smith, MOAA's Auxiliary Advisory Committee

What do we mean by "auxiliary"? MOAA uses the term to identify the surviving spouse of a deceased member. Of these survivors, 99 percent are women. In the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Chapter of MOAA we refer to auxiliaries as "special members." Regardless of what we are called, we are the surviving spouses of MOAA members and hopefully play an important role.

Now that our spouses are no longer with us, we must remember to look to MOAA for help, guidance, and support just as our spouses did. They believed in MOAA, and perhaps your loved one made it possible for you to continue a life membership or annual membership. MOAA at the national level is there to help you, and so are the officers of your local chapter. Please remember that, and call on them when you need answers. At the chapter level, we want special members to feel as much a part of the chapter as the regular members. We would like you to actively participate. I know you all have talent and skills, so come forward and share them with us. We need you to know that we want you to be an active part of a chapter and to know that MOAA is for you as well. If you have thoughts or concerns, feel free to bring them to a local board member so that they can be addressed. You can always call national MOAA with questions; in most cases they can find an answer or solution for you. They are there for you. Please become involved, and do come to our monthly meetings. You are a vital part of our membership.

Past Presidents Place

.LtCol Ron Green USAF (President 2001 - 2003)

Ron was born in Aberdeen, SD and then had short moves to Wyoming and Nebraska. While in Nebraska he lived under a final approach to the runway there. This was a "top off" base that had bombers and fighters that flew each day. Ron looked up at the airplanes in the sky in 1942 and set a goal of becoming a Fighter Pilot.

This goal was realized in 1960 when he earned his wings and became a Fighter Pilot in the F-100. Although he took time off from the cockpit to obtain a Masters Degree from ASU in 1973 and served in the Pentagon from '74-'78, he stayed a Fighter Pilot until retiring in 1980. During this time he flew for 3150 hours in the F-100 and obtained 900 hours in the F-4.

He flew out of or over most countries of the world. This included 3 tours in Vietnam and totaled 292 Combat Missions (232 in the F-100 and 60 in the F-4) without sustaining a single hit. Although one day he remembers a missile going by the canopy so close that he could see the access panels needed a blade screw driver. On his 4th mission he also Winchestered (depleted the gun ammo) of a MIG-17. 37mm guns blink while 23mm guns put out a steady stream of fire and yes you can see the bullets go by! Later he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for Heroism during aerial flight.

Ron had many ocean deployments that used the KB-50s and KC-135s. He remembers these as hours of boredom interspersed with short periods of extreme fright. The most memorable refuelings involved chasing a KB-50 down by following the exhaust in the clouds and using the F-4s radar for join up in the clouds behind a KC-135 over Thailand. In both cases there was no abort base available. The longest deployment lasted for 10 1/2 hours and required 5 aerial refuelings.

He retired from the Air Force in 1980 and went to work at McDonnell Aircraft in St. Louis, MO. While there he flew thousands of hours in the domed simulators and became the Chief Threat Pilot in current and hypothesized future MIG Aircraft. His involvement in two projects there resulted in his being awarded the Presidents Award twice. As he said, "Too bad the awards were not money instead of certificates and plaques."

Health problems finally resulted in forcing him to really retire in 1994. He moved to the valley and became involved with the Arizona Chapter of MOAA. After a year of Chapter inactivity he agreed to be the 1st Vice President for 3 years and then became the president from 2001 -2003. He figures that he will be involved in MOAA and veterans affairs as long as he can get around!
